

March 2020

To all our Brothers and Sisters,

We wanted to take this opportunity to send a few lines during these extraordinary times. At GreenHills Ventures, we have completed our first couple of weeks working remotely from home. First and foremost, I hope you are well and safe during these unprecedented times. While we continue to work remotely, we will be available to assist our portfolio companies, private clients, and institutional partners in any way we can professionally or personally. In the meanwhile, we continue to respond to many inquiries from our portfolio companies and private clients as to the impact of coronavirus on their businesses, including continuing on going discussions and negotiations with our portfolio companies and value added partners, monthly reporting to Limited Partners and Private Clients, force majeure and material adverse change clauses, etc. We will be sending updates related to some of these issues and will be available to discuss in confidence on any particular topic by phone or email.

On a more personal note, we want to share with you some of our thoughts and reflections on the global crisis from a different perspective:

Reflections on Humility and Humanity:

We are living in extraordinary times as the coronavirus spreads globally. Maybe if we pause and begin to reflect on humility and humanity, we might see a different perspective:

- We are vulnerable as human beings and interdependent on each other;
- We are reconnecting with God, family and friends;
- We even reduced travel so that our planet can purify its air and creating a more green environment;
- We are working from home realizing we can be productive and even spend a little more time with loved ones;
- We are trying to center ourselves in meditation and prayer to reconnect the body with the mind and God;
- We relearned to wash our hands and are more aware of where we go and what we touch;
- We walk the empty streets of major cities and even smile and say hello to strangers despite the circumstances;
- We realized that we need to be prepared individually and as a community to meet any threat to humanity;
- Maybe this virus is a reminder to connect, to be human, to be humble and to be kind to each other and our environment; and
- Maybe it is a chance to evolve as humans and live a happier and be mindful to connect to life and God.

Stay safe and healthy.

Our warmest regards,

GreenHills Ventures
